

THE CENTENNIAL HOMECOMING

A historical Homecoming needs a historical shirt. This design brings in elements from the vast history of the University of Miami.

With inspiration coming from stamps, I include the most iconic, historical and fan favorite icons known to the University. A shirt that can be worn not only by students & alumni, but also by the community. I fear people will fight for these.

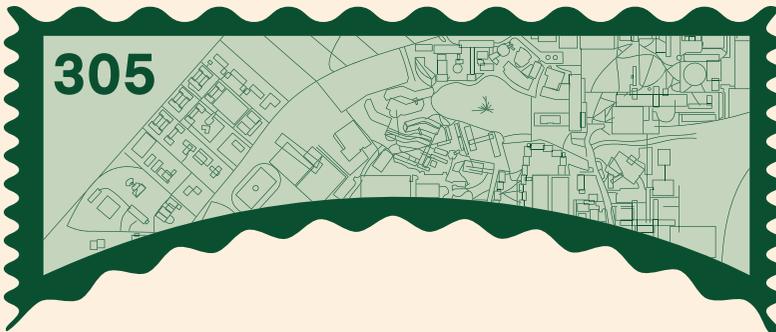

Design

We wouldn't be the Hurricanes if it wasn't for the storm that started it all. The Great Miami Hurricane in 1926 delayed our opening, but gave us our name. Or maybe it was Porter Noriss' idea?

An obvious must-have the Orange Blossoms are what gave us our school colors. Orange for the fruit, green for the leaves and white for the blossom.

It wouldn't be a commemorative shirt without highlighting our beautiful campus. The map highlights some of the most iconic spots on campus.

And if we're showing our modern campus, we should also highlight the building that started it all.

The most obvious of the stamps are the Hurricane Warning flags and our U's up hands.

Lastly, The Gliders. Everyone's favorite study spot, hang out, spot and the best place to have an ice cold pitcher at the Rat.

For more historical icons, I feature the one and only Miami Orange Bowl and The Smoke tying in the massive football history we were a part of.

Stamps

Call me Taylor Swift the way I hid some easter eggs. In almost every stamp you'll notice a number. Together the numbers make:

- » 1925
- » When it all begin
- » 305
- » Miami Area Code
- » 100
- » for 100 years
- » and 2025
- » The Centennial Celebration Year

Easter Eggs

Two shirt colors for your consideration. Green for the classic UM vibes, but also a cream option for a more vintage feel. The design was made with both colors in mind so they could be interchangeable depending on the option that is chosen.

The Centennial Logo will be featured on the front on the pocket area. The total colors of the back design are 4, it includes: Green, Orange, Cream & Baby Blue.
